“ When I think about my high school days and even after my high school days, Glenda (sister) was definitely in my memories during that time. As I became friends with Ellen and Eve, it didn't take long for me to meet, Jack and Glenda. Their house was always busy. But I always felt welcome there. Ellen, Eve and myself, were in band together. The school year was busy. But when summer got here, that's when we got to have some fun. I can remember spending summer days with the Lacey family. I've helped them clean the house, break green beans and shell butter beans. But the best part, was getting to watch, As The World Turns. That was Glenda's soap opera. We definitely had some laughs watching it. Ellen and Eve, went to Alabama, when they would come home for the weekend, I had to go see them. And there was Glenda, opening the door and saying, come on in Paula. I smile, thinking about Glenda. In the years that followed, we all begin to do our on things and making our on life. Visiting the Lacey home didn't happen much anymore. But on the occasion that I did go there, I was met with same smile and come on in Paula. Anytime I saw Glenda, I always gave her a hug and told her that I loved her. I was sad when I read her obituary. I knew that precious lady was with Jack and all her family, that went before her. Glenda, thank you for all the wonderful memories. Thank you for always inviting me into your home. And mostly, for loving me and treating me like one of your on. RIP sister, until we meet again.
